treatment of patients suffering from any of the infectious diseases which the Committee may wish to receive at the time being.

The Nursing Home had already been erected in 1893 in such a situation in the grounds as not to interfere with the carrying out of any scheme to be afterwards adopted, and during the past year another block of buildings has been constructed according to the design of Mr. Keith Young, the Architect to the Hospital.

This building comprises a complete Laundry, viz. : wash-house, drying closet, ironing room, receiving and sorting rooms, and a room for the laundry-maids ; boiler house, engine-room and workshop ; destructor for refuse, disinfecting house, mortuary, post-mortem room and laboratories for Pathological and Bacteriological work. The Boiler house has been fitted with two powerful steam boilers made by Adamson, of Hyde, under the supervision of the Manchester Steam Users' Association, either of which is capable of performing the whole work of the Hospital when complete including, if necessary, the production of electric current for lighting purposes. The whole of the waste gases from the boiler flues instead of passing directly into the chimney are conducted through a Green's Economiser, an apparatus for heating the feed water. The whole of the water used in the boilers and the Laundry is subjected to a process of softening, by which more than two-thirds of the hardness so destructive to boilers and pipes and so wasteful of soap is removed. The Laundry was completed and commenced working in October, 1895.

A further step has been taken towards the development of the complete scheme for re-building the Hospital by the acceptance of a tender for the erection of a Ward Block on the north side of the garden. This block will provide accommodation for 20 patients on two floors of ten each. The building is so planned that each floor is entirely independent of the other, so that two distinct diseases can be treated simultaneously without any risk of contagion. This building is now in course of erection, and will it is hoped be ready for occupation this autumn.

The re-construction of the Hospital now being carried out will curtail to some extent the number of beds available for the treatment of Scarlet Fever patients in the Hospital itself; for at the present time, such patients have to be kept in the wards of the Hospital long after they have ceased to be confined to bed and during the whole period of desquamation. In order that the capabilities of the Institution for the treatment of Scarlet Fever shall not be any less than they have been heretofore, the Committee resolved that a Convalescent Home should be established near London in connection with the Hospital, to which Scarlet Fever patients can be sent during their period of convalescence; this will be of material advantage to the health of the patients themselves, and will set free the wards of the Hospital in London for the continuous reception of cases of Scarlet Fever in the acute stage.

Considerable difficulty was found in obtaining a site for such a Convalescent Home near enough to the Hospital itself for the patients to be conveyed there by road, and in a neighbourhood where objection might not be raised to the introduction of patients in an infectious condition. The Committee, however, has succeeded in purchasing a site of nine acres in extent in the North of London, about seven miles from the Hospital itself; it is situate in a healthy and open position, and appears to be in all respects suitable for the proposed purpose; in order that the work of the Hospital may be carried on without lessening the accommodation for Scarlet Fever, the Committee trusts that they may receive funds sufficient to justify their taking active steps towards the building of the Convalescent Home during the ensuing year.

The majority of the cases admitted into the Institution during the year were of Scarlet Fever; during the latter part of the year, when Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria and Measles were all prevalent, many cases of Scarlet Fever were refused admission, but the Committee were able to receive all the cases of this disease sent by Governors of this Institution. The number of cases of Scarlet Fever admitted during the year was 516, which, with 25 who remained in the Hospital from the year 1894, made a total of 541 under treatment during the 12 months ending December 31st, 1895; of these 446 were discharged cured; 83 remained under treatment at the close of the year, and 16 died; the mortality was thus 2·6 per cent., which, as in previous years, compares favourably with the death rate of 4·2 per cent. among the 19,757 cases notified throughout London.

Of Diphtheria—which unfortunately continues to become more and more a prevalent disease in London, probably, as in the case of Scarlet Fever, on account of the aggregation of large numbers of children in the Board Schools—the Hospital received 52 cases, which with 2 who remained in Hospital from 1894 made a total of 54 cases; of these 34 recovered, 4 died, and 16 remained in the Hospital on December 31st, 1895, the mortality was thus 10·5 per cent., as compared with a percentage rate of mortality of 20·3 per cent. among the 11,223 cases notified in the Metropolis.

Antitoxin obtained from various sources was employed in the treatment of Diphtheria in the Hospital; in many cases with apparently beneficial results.

Ten cases of Measles were admitted. Of these 6 were discharged cured, and 4 remained in Hospital at the end of 1895.

Eighty-four cases of German Measles were admitted; all recovered.

One case of Typhoid Fever was admitted, certified to be suffering from Scarlet Fever, and remained in Hospital at the end of the year.

One Nurse contracted Diphtheria, and was treated and recovered in the wards. Loeffler's bacillus was found in the throats of two other Nurses, who were relieved from duty in consequence, but were not treated in the wards. One Nurse contracted Scarlet Fever, one Ward Maid contracted Scarlet Fever, and one Diphtheria; all recovered.

Several patients in the main Female Scarlet Fever Ward developed Diphtheria during their stay in the Hospital; one died of Scarlet Fever, Pyæmia, and Diphtheria, and one died of Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria.

Scarlet Fever also attacked some of the patients in the Female Diphtheria Ward; it appears probable that it was introduced through the admission of a child suffering from Diphtheria from a dwelling-house in which it was subsequently ascertained there was also Scarlet Fever.

One patient with Scarlet Fever also had German Measles, which developed after her admission into the Hospital, and was contracted by two other patients in the same ward; recovery soon ensued in all the cases.

The Committee regret to record the death of Sir George Buchanan, one of the consulting Physicians to the Hospital, and formerly chief Medical Officer to the Local Government Board; and of another member of the Committee who had been long connected with the Institution, Inspector General Bostock, C.B.

Sir George Buchanan's connection with the Hospital began with his appointment as Resident Medical Officer in 1854. While holding this post he contracted and nearly lost his life from Typhus Fever. In 1860 he was appointed Assistant Physician, and in 1862 Physician to the Hospital; he ceased to be a member of the Visiting Staff when he accepted an appointment under the Local Government Board, but was elected one of the Consulting Physicians in 1880, and he remained a member of the Committee till his death.

Sir George Buchanan's intimate relations with the London Fever Hospital bore results of far-reaching usefulness to the Public. Early impressed with the necessity of the separation from each other of persons suffering from the different fevers, he laboured in his official position to secure the provision of suitable hospital accommodation for this object throughout the country. His study of the infectious fevers led to his devoting his exceptional abilities to seeking the means of their prevention, and the marked success which attended his official career is thus indissolubly connected with his association with the London Fever Hospital. The warm interest he always manifested in the welfare of the Hospital and the services he rendered it will always be remembered by the Committee with feelings of gratitude.

At the Annual Meeting in February, 1895, Major Gubbins was elected a Member of the Committee.

Dr. J. O. Symes resigned the appointment of Assistant Resident Medical Officer in October, 1895, after holding the post for one year. Mr. G. C. Garrett, M.B., Cantab., was elected in his place.

Mr. W. B. Keen, Chartered Accountant, has been appointed to audit the accounts.

The Annual Subscription list shows an increase of £70, and Donations to the amount of £2,466 were received during the year.

LONDON FEVER HOSPITAL,

LIVERPOOL ROAD, ISLINGTON.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

Reception of Patients.

1. The Hospital is intended for the reception of persons suffering from infectious fever other than small-pox, and more especially for such of those persons as may require isolation, in order to prevent the further spread or propagation of the disease from them to others.

2. Any person (not being a parochial pauper) labouring under such disease shall, subject to the next rule, be considered a proper person for admission into the Hospital.

3. The Committee may from time to time make regulations for the admission of such persons as patients on payment of such sums as may be from time to time determined, provided always that—

(a) Domestic servants of governors shall be admitted gratuitously.

(b) The Committee may, if they think fit, at any time reduce or wholly remit the fees in the case of individual patients.

4. Applications for admission should be accompanied by a medical certificate stating the nature of the disease. The medical officers may, in the exercise of their discretion, refuse admission to any case which they deem unfit; but every refusal to admit a patient shall be reported at the next meeting of the Committee, together with the reason for the refusal.

Governors.

5. All subscribers of not less than one guinea per annum, who have subscribed for more than one year, and all donors of not less than ten guineas in one donation, shall be governors of the Hospital. This rule shall not be retrospective.

General Meeting and Election of Committee.

6. A general meeting of the governors, of which ten days' previous notice must be given in three morning newspapers, shall be held every year, on the second Friday in February, or as near thereto as may be convenient, for the purpose of approving or rescinding the proceedings of the Committee for the preceding year for receiving the annual report of the state of the funds; and for electing a president, vice-presidents, treasurer, honorary secretary, and other members of the Committee for the ensuing year.

7. The Committee for the management of the Hospital shall consist of the president, the vice-presidents, the trustees, the treasurer, honorary secretary, and not less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five other governors.

8. A special general meeting of the governors may at any time be called by direction of the president or of the Committee; or on the requisition of any twelve governors, provided the requisition be made in writing to the secretary, and the purpose for which the same is summoned be published in three morning newspapers at least ten days prior to the meeting; but the proceedings of such special general meeting, though acted upon pro tempore, shall not be deemed final until confirmed by another general meeting.

9. No new rule or law shall be made, nor shall any existing rule or law be repealed or altered, until determined upon at a general meeting by a majority of governors present and voting, and until confirmed at a subsequent general or special meeting.

10. The presence of seven governors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at general meetings, and without that number no business shall be transacted.

The Committee.

11. The Committee shall manage the Hospital. They shall meet on the second Friday, or on such other day of every month as they may appoint; and three members shall be necessary to constitute a meeting and to transact business. A special meeting of the Committee may be called by the direction of the honorary secretary, or by any three members of the Committee, on giving at least three days' notice of the same to the members of the Committee, and specifying the business for which it is called.

12. The Committee shall have authority to appoint sub-committees, whose reports shall be submitted to their consideration; and with the assistance of the medical officers shall, from time to time as may be expedient, form regulations and by-laws for the internal management of the Hospital.

13. The resolutions of one meeting of the Committee shall not be rescinded by another, unless it be specially summoned for that purpose.

14. The Committee shall yearly publish a report of the state of the Hospital.

15. All accounts, except such small sums as may be comprised under the item of petty cash, shall be submitted to the Committee at the monthly meetings, after having been duly examined by the secretary, the resident medical officer, the house-directors, and certified by the auditor; and such accounts, if approved, shall be paid by cheques payable to order, signed in Committee by two members of the Committee, or, in case a Committee cannot be formed, by two of the house-directors, and in all cases countersigned by the secretary.

16. No member of the Committee shall furnish, otherwise than gratuitously, any goods, provisions, or other articles, for the use of, or on account of, the Hospital, or be concerned in any contract, directly or indirectly, for supplying the same, or be employed for hire, fees, wages, or profit in any office or employment in connection with the Hospital.

Conduct of Meetings.

17. At all meetings a simple majority of the members present and voting shall bind the minority; and in case of equality of votes, the chairman shall have an additional or casting vote.

Treasurer.

18. The treasurer, if present, shall take the chair at all meetings of the Committee, in the absence of the president or vice-presidents. He shall keep an account at the bankers', and all moneys received for the use of the Hospital shall be paid to such account; he shall honour cheques signed, as provided in Rule 15.

Honorary Secretary.

19. In the absence of the Committee, the honorary secretary shall represent the Hospital with the public and with public bodies, reporting his action to the Committee.

Audit.

20. All accounts of the Hospital shall be audited by a professional auditor. The auditor shall certify the accounts, and it shall be his duty to report to the Committee anything in the books or accounts which in his opinion appear to call for comment.

21. At the meeting of the Committee in November, three gentlemen, one at least of whom shall not be a member of the Committee, shall be appointed to examine the accounts of the Hospital for the current year, and approve an abstract of all receipts and disbursements to be prepared by the secretary, and laid before the annual general meeting in February.

House-Directors.

22. The house-directors shall consist of the trustees, treasurer, the two physicians, and the architect, who shall be ex-officio house-directors, and of three elected house-directors chosen as follows:—The Committee at their meeting in February shall appoint a member of their own body to be chairman of house-directors, who shall retain office for a term of three months. They shall in like manner appoint a chairman of house-directors at their meetings in May, August, and November. The same person shall not, unless by special resolution of the Committee, be elected for two terms in succession. The Committee at each monthly meeting shall appoint two members of their body to be house-directors for the ensuing month, one of whom, if possible, shall not have served during the previous month. If the same house-directors are re-appointed, they shall only be so appointed by special resolution.

23. They shall from time to time cause the beds, clothes, and apparel belonging to the Hospital to be examined, and shall report thereon, if necessary, to the Committee. They shall inspect the tradesmen's bills, and take care that the provisions, bedding, clothing, furniture, and every article for the use of the Hospital be supplied on the most reasonable terms; they shall order in writing all permanent stores, and shall advise the Committee as to all larger requirements and structural alterations.

24. All articles required in large quantity shall, where practicable, be supplied by contract after public tender, and all considerable contracts for work or repairs be made after public tender or invitation to not less than three respectable firms, but the house-directors shall not be obliged to accept the lowest or any tender.

25. They shall be authorised in all respects to enforce the observance of the regulations of the Hospital; they shall notice and report to the Committee any irregularity or misconduct on the part of the officers, servants, or patients of the charity, and shall, at every meeting of the Committee, cause a statement of the house expenditure to be produced for the preceding month. They shall appoint and dismiss, or approve the appointment or dismissal, of all nurses, porters, and other servants, male or female.

26. The chairman of the house-directors shall, during the intervals between their meetings, be authorised to exercise the functions of the house-directors in any matter of urgency, reporting, at their next meeting, what he may have done under this authority.

Physicians.

27. There shall be two physicians and one or more assistant physicians, who shall be Fellows or Members of the Royal College of Physicians of London; and also a surgeon, who shall be a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

28. One of the physicians shall visit the Hospital at least once every day. The physicians shall have the power of dismissing any patient for refractory conduct or disobedience of orders. The physicians, assistant physicians, and surgeon shall be entitled to attend all Committee meetings.

28A. No physician shall hold the appointment of physician for more than twenty years, nor after he shall have attained the age of sixty-five years.

Assistant Physicians.

29. In case of the illness or necessary absence of either of the physicians, one of the assistant physicians shall attend regularly in his stead. Such attendances shall be reported to the Committee. If the number of patients exceed 150, an assistant physician shall come on active duty.

30. The surgeon shall undertake the surgical charge of such patients as the physicians may deem necessary, and in case of emergency shall attend when summoned by the resident medical officer. Such attendances shall be reported to the Committee. If unable to attend, the surgeon shall substitute a duly qualified deputy.

Hospital Pupils.

31. No medical student shall be permitted to visit the Hospital unless in company with one of the physicians, or unless regularly entered or registered as a pupil by the physicians.

Architect.

32. There shall be an Architect to the Hospital. He shall advise on all questions concerning the Hospital sites and buildings, and shall supervise the structural maintenance of the Hospital, prepare all plans, and superintend all works connected therewith.

33. His status shall be similar to that of physicians to the Hospital.

Resident Medical Officer.

34. The resident medical officer shall reside constantly at the Hospital, and shall devote himself entirely to the duties of his office, as defined by these laws and by the by-laws. Candidates for the post shall be required to produce satisfactory testimonials to the Committee.

35. He shall superintend the wards, and Hospital generally, between the visits of the physicians, and the dispensary shall be exclusively under his control. In the absence of the Committee and house-directors, he shall be recognised as the head of the establishment.

36. He shall keep accurate registers of the patients and of their cases, which registers shall be the property of the Hospital; he shall produce a special report every month, to be laid before the Committee.

37. When the number of patients shall be sufficiently great, or other circumstances render such a step necessary, the Committee shall have power to appoint one or two assistants to the resident medical officer, and he or they shall receive such remuneration as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

Secretary, House Steward, and Collector.

38. There shall be a secretary and a house steward. These offices shall be filled by the same or by different persons as the Committee shall from time to time think fit.

39. The duties of the secretary shall be to have the conduct of the correspondence of the Hospital, the keeping of the accounts, and to perform all duties appointed by the by-laws.

40. The house steward shall have the management of the domestic affairs of the Hospital, under the general superintendence of the resident medical officer, and shall perform the duties appointed by the by-laws.

41. The duties of the collector shall be—
To call on subscribers and collect all donations and subscriptions of the Hospital; to give only authorised printed receipts for the same; to attend all meetings when required; to keep correct lists and duplicate lists of all donations and subscriptions, with the residences of the donors and subscribers, made up from day to day; to pay weekly all moneys he may receive to the bankers; to deliver weekly to the secretary reports in writing of all moneys received and paid, with the balance at the bankers'; to keep the accounts regularly entered in the collector's cash book; to deliver a copy of the annual report to each subscriber; and to perform all the duties appointed by the by-laws.

42. The secretary, house steward, and collector shall be required to enter into bonds with sufficient sureties for the due and faithful performance of their duties in such sums as the Committee may determine.

Matron.

43. The matron shall have the direction of the nurses and female servants of the Hospital, subject to the superintendence of the house directors and the resident medical officer, and shall be responsible for the care and order of the wards. She shall have charge of the housekeeping arrangements, and shall perform the duties appointed by the by-laws.

Election of Officers.

44. The physicians, surgeon, assistant physicians, architect, resident medical officers, matron, auditor, and secretary shall be elected by a Committee comprised of the Committee for the management of the Hospital, the honorary medical officers, and the architect.

Salaries.

45. No variation in the fixed salaries of officials shall be made unless the Committee be summoned for that purpose, and unless the proposed addition or diminution be confirmed by a subsequent Committee.

Trustees.

46. The legal estate in the lands, buildings, and premises of the Hospital shall be vested in not less than three trustees, new trustees being appointed at a general meeting of the governors when vacancies occur.

47. All legacies of £100 and upwards, unless otherwise directed by the testators, shall be invested for the benefit of the Hospital, in the names of three trustees, to be called trustees of the fund.

Religious Ministrations.

48. Ministers of religion of all denominations shall have free and equal access to the Hospital, but no minister of any denomination shall receive any payment out of the funds of the Hospital in respect of his ministrations.

49. It shall be a standing instruction to the Committee and officers of the Hospital that any minister of religion desirous of visiting or ministering to patients of his own denomination shall be received with all courtesy, and shall be afforded all facilities consistent with the wishes and welfare of the patients, and the convenient conduct of the Hospital.

By-Laws.

50. The by-laws which shall from time to time be made by the Committee shall be open to the inspection of any governor, and shall contain, among other things, a full specification of the duties of the resident medical officer, the matron, and other officers and servants of the Hospital, together with the terms of their employment. This specification of his or her own duties shall be read to, and assented to in writing by, every person before his or her appointment, and referred to on all occasions of doubt.

At a Meeting of the Committee held at Freemasons' Tavern, on October 13th, 1882, it was resolved:—

1. That no election to the offices of physician, assistant physician, resident medical officer, assistant resident medical officer, secretary, auditor, or matron, be proceeded with until the vacancy has been advertised in three daily London papers and in two medical journals. The first advertisement to be inserted not less than eight days before the election.

LONDON FEVER HOSPITAL, LIVERPOOL ROAD, N.

Address of the President, The Right Hon. Lord BALFOUR OF BURLINGTON, delivered at the Annual General Meeting of the Governors of the Institution, held on the 12th February, 1892.

Gentlemen, it falls to me as usual to propose a vote of thanks to the committee, and approval of their proceedings for the past year. It is not, perhaps, altogether proper that I should do it, because I regard myself as a working member of the committee, coming here as often as I do, and I must say that the work that we have to do is very pleasant work, because we very seldom have a serious difference of opinion, and yet we manage to let nothing pass without its being fully canvassed, and seeing whether the course proposed is for the benefit of the Hospital. The details of the work have been so well spoken of in the report itself, and by Dr. Harley, that I do not think I need trespass at any length upon this meeting with reference to the work done. Speaking generally, I think I may say that the year has been a year of really good work, in no way whatever inferior, and, perhaps, in some respects superior to many of those that have gone before. It is true that the patients in the Hospital have been under the average, and our resources have not been so severely taxed as they have been in past years. That, however, affords matter for congratulation in more ways than one. We are glad there should be less disease in the Metropolis, and we are glad that our resources should not be taxed so much as usual, but we are more especially glad because it proves that scarlet fever in the Metropolis shows a tendency to decline. (Hear, hear.) There were more patients suffering from scarlet fever than any other diseases, and I think it is most satisfactory to hear that the mortality from that disease, which is so much feared, should be under one per cent. (Hear, hear.) If you go into the details of the figures they show that in this past year, as in previous years, there is strong evidence that our Hospital is gaining ground as a refuge for those who desire to pay something to ward the treatment which they receive, and who want to take advantage of hospital treatment when suffering from infectious diseases. That is being done to a much larger extent among all classes than used to be the case, more especially among the middle class, those who have no means of their own and who live in tenements. That is an advantage not only to the individuals themselves, but also to the general public, because it lessens the danger of spreading these diseases. (Hear, hear.) I must say that I do not wonder at the desire to take advantage of hospital treatment increasing, when we see that the mortality from all diseases in the Institution was only 2 per cent. (Applause.) I do not think I am going too far when I say that it is safer to live in the Fever Hospital with a fever upon you than it is to live outside in a general way in London in these times of influenza. I may mention another point in which we are entitled to say we are doing good work, and that is that we received 20 nurses and 36 patients from other hospitals who had been suffering from infectious diseases. That is a great advantage to those other hospitals, to get rid of those patients and those nurses when they had contracted infectious diseases, so that the risk to the other patients might not be so great by having infectious diseases within the walls of their buildings. That, I think I am entitled to say, is a very great benefit which this Institution has been able to confer upon other hospitals. (Hear, hear.) We have also received 77 children from orphanages and various institutions of that kind who have been suffering from infectious diseases, and in the case of one or two of those institutions that were not rich in funds we have remitted fees, either in whole or in part. The expenditure of the Hospital has been smaller than in 1890—true, only to a very small extent, and it has not decreased in proportion to the decrease in the number of patients. But that I explained very fully last year, and, of course, the explanation is obvious, that in a fever hospital you cannot submit to diminish your staff of trained nurses according to the fluctuations of the disease. If an outbreak of scarlet fever comes upon the Metropolis suddenly we must be prepared to deal with it, and we must have a staff of trained nurses, and not have to take on fresh candidates when there would be the greatest pressure upon our resources. (Hear, hear.) I am sure I need not say much more about the general work of the Hospital, because I think we all appreciate the self-denying labours of our medical staff, and also our other officers who are connected with the work of the Institution—the matron, the nurses, and others who serve in the building. (Hear, hear.) Everything that we can do shall be—and has been—done for their comfort, but at the same time we must admit that service in a fever hospital cannot be so attractive as in any other hospital, and we therefore ought to give special acknowledgments to those who carry on the work inside the building. (Hear, hear.) As to the accounts, the legacies are rather larger than usual, and while we are glad in one way to see that, in another we are sorry. We are sorry to lose those who have taken an interest in the Hospital, and therefore it is with very mixed feelings that I see our legacies are larger than usual. We have invested the legacies, because I think that is a proper and sound financial policy. (Hear, hear.) I only think it is fair to those who leave the money that it should be invested, because we must assume that in many cases those who have been our subscribers during lifetime leave us money at their death, and if we lose their subscriptions and spend their legacies we are certainly not pursuing a wise financial policy. It is better, therefore, to invest the legacies, so that the dividends therefrom may to some extent make up for the diminution in the subscriptions. The subscriptions last year were kept up to the average, but if you will look through the accounts for a number of years you will find that there is a balance against the Hospital requiring to be made up of something over £1,500, and unless we can raise our subscription list by about £2,000 a year I am not prepared to say that the financial position of the Institution is assured. We, therefore, very much want to increase our regular subscriptions. Dr. Phillips has very properly alluded to the sad losses we sustained last year. First there was Sir Robert Fowler, who was for many years our treasurer. We are glad to see that he has been succeeded in that capacity by his partner, Alderman Dimsdale. Cardinal Manning's removal we all greatly deplore because his name was a tower of strength to us, and a guarantee for the efficient conduct of the Institution. Mr. Ellis has also been removed by death—a gentleman who was for many years a very active member of the committee. That is one other reminder before I sit down and that is that during the past year we were called upon to re-organise the Hospital's Committee (requiring last) the members of the Hospital's Committee and gave advice and information to the Hospital, and indeed, from its very inception, it was in order that it should be so. (Hear, hear.) I must say that I have no reason to fear any of the Hospital's Committee. I believe we may rely on the knowledge of details shown by our lay and resident medical officer impressed the Committee very favourably with the management of the Institution. With these remarks I beg to move the resolution. The motion was unanimously agreed to.

REMARKABLE RESULTS OF HOSPITAL WORK.

The London Fever Hospital report must be pleasant reading to the inhabitants of this great City, as it amply proves that the more dangerous fevers have, to a considerable extent, been robbed of the dire consequences that used almost invariably to follow an attack. It is really marvellous that the mortality among the 339 patients treated for scarlet fever in the Hospital last year should have been kept down to the extremely low average of 0.9 per cent.; and this fact reflects the greatest credit upon both the medical staff and nurses. All the more gratifying is this mortality when compared with the average mortality from the same disease—5.1 per cent.—for all London. What wonder then that the benefits of this Institution are more and more appreciated by those who can afford to pay a small part of the expense of their treatment. Another fact for which the Hospital managers deserve a word of praise is that not one patient contracted any other disease while in the Institution. This shows the great care exercised to see that each patient is taken in the proper ward, and is a testimony to the professional skill of Dr. Hopwood, upon whom this duty devolves. Fortunately, as Lord Balfour reminded the meeting in his admirable speech, scarlet fever shows a tendency to decline in the Metropolis. For this happy result we are largely indebted to the London Fever Hospital. Next year's figures we hope may show even a smaller number of patients treated than last year. But we must not forget that London may at any time be visited with a fever epidemic, so that it is of paramount importance that a Hospital, which has shown such wonderful satisfactory results, should be supplied with ample funds to keep its organisation in thorough working order, and thus be ever ready to deal with any emergency. For these reasons we trust this most necessary and useful Institution may be more liberally supported.

LORD BALFOUR OF BURLEIGH,

HIS LORDSHIP said:—Gentlemen, since the meeting began the Secretary has received a telegram of apology from Sir George Buchanan, late Chief Medical Officer of the Local Government Board, who almost always attends our meetings, and who takes a very keen interest in the welfare of the Hospital. Now I have to comment on the task of taking
